AAPO HUHTA

AAPO HUHTA

Aapo Huhta (b. 1985) is a photographic artist living and working in Helsinki. Huhta combines elements of documentary practice and experimental darkroom techniques with subjective, mundane observations, building a range of ambiguous and often fragmented narratives in his work. His works are aesthetically acclaimed for their ability to turn the ordinary into enchanting.

Exploring different forms of photographic narratives, methods, and possibilities plays a significant role in his work. The exploration has culminated in two photo books, Block (Kehrer Verlag, 2015) and Omatandangole (Kehrer Verlag, 2019). He received the award of the Young Nordic Photographer of the Year, by Fotografiska, in 2015 and was chosen for a Young Artist of the Year award by Tampere Art Museum, in 2020.

His next solo exhibition is set to take place at Galleria Heino in Helsinki in August 2023. His work is featured in public and private collections including Museum of Contemporary Art Kiasma (Finland), Tampere Art Museum (Finland), The Finnish Museum of Photography and private collections in Norway, Sweden, Italy, Germany and The Netherlands.
